

Zach and Chantelle's Family

Logan, Chantelle, Zach, Ethan, and Austin

We are fun, silly, and full of love. Our home is often full of laughter and the sounds of children playing. We can't wait to welcome another child into our home.

To the birth parents,

“Enjoy the little things in life, for one day you may look back and realize they were the big things.” This quote from Robert Brault encapsulates our – Zach and Chantelle – view on life and parenting. When we look back at the growth of our children, the everyday little things clearly have the biggest impact. We feel so blessed that you have taken the time to look at our profile. We know you have some big, difficult decisions in front of you. We admire your courage and strength, and hope that we can be a part of your journey.

We have been married for almost thirteen years, and have been blessed with three loving, clever, wild boys. Chantelle is no longer able to have any more children naturally, but we’ve always felt like there is a little girl that is supposed to join our family. We are excited to grow our family through the miracle of adoption. We can assure you that your baby will have a safe and happy home – a home with three big brothers that will teach her all about cars, bugs, animals, and rough housing. A home with a mother that loves to paint nails, do little girl’s hair, and will teach her how to be sweet and strong. And a home with a father that loves to spoil the rest of his family members, because that’s what brings him joy in life.

As a family, we love doing things together. We eat every meal possible together. We play outside together. We bake cookies and deliver them to the neighbors together. We watch movies on the weekends together. We visit our extended family often. And we love taking vacations whenever possible together.

Our family belongs to The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and we share the morals, values, and teachings of Jesus with our children. We are blessed with Zach’s career with the Air Force that allows Chantelle to be a stay at home mom.

We promise your daughter will be in good hands in our home. She will be loved, respected, and given every opportunity to grow into a beautiful, strong, independent woman. Our home will always be open for you to also observe and follow her growth, if you desire. We hope that you get to know us better as you look through the rest of our profile. We truly look forward to getting to know you.

About Zach

Zach's is the oldest of 5 kids. Zach's parents have been married for 37 years.

Zach has been in the military since he turned 17; first in the National Guard in the Army Band, and now full time for the Air Force as a pilot. Here Chantelle and the boys pin on his rank when he became an officer.

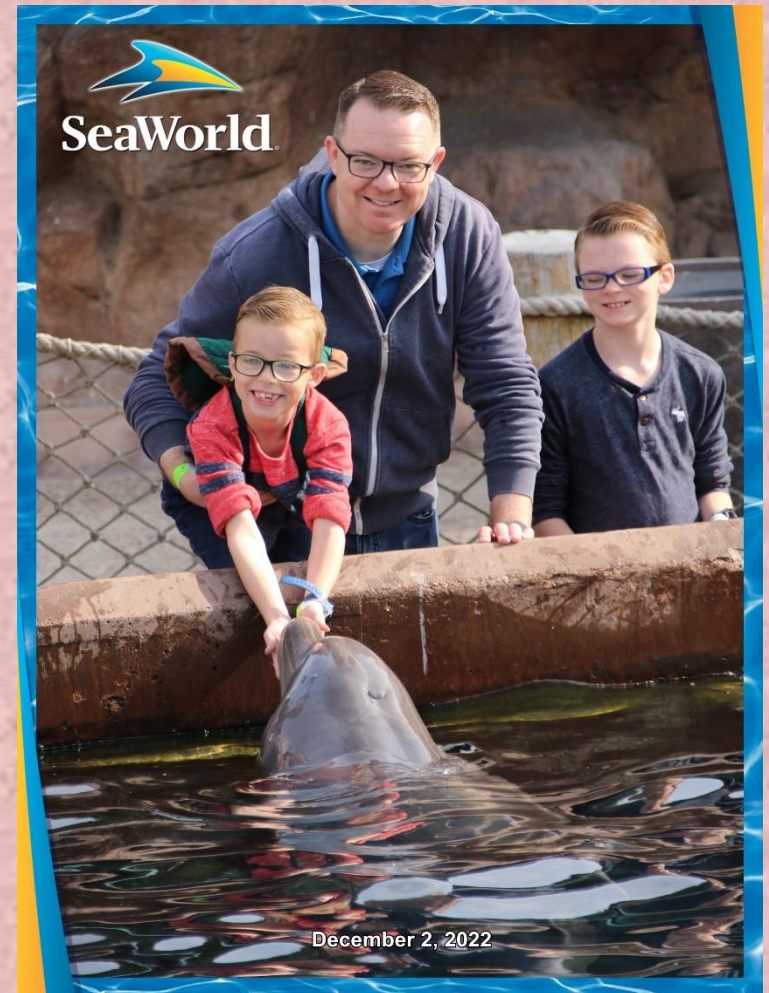

Zach likes to tackle projects around the home, like building shelves and putting together furniture from IKEA. Here Zach and the boys test out a new shelf in the garage.

Zach is an introvert that avoids large crowds. He prefers to get to know people in quiet and intimate settings. Here the family eats dinner with friends at their home.

Zach loves to spoil his family. Here Logan, Zach, and Ethan pet a dolphin.

Zach is always thinking of new inventions and businesses that he'd like to start. So, it wouldn't be a surprise to say his favorite TV show is Shark Tank. Here the boys help unload inventory of a toy he invented.

Zach's favorite food is Italian.
He hopes to visit Italy one day.

Zach's always trying to think of new family activities to do together. He's currently refurbishing a camper trailer so the family can go camping as many times as possible this summer. Here Ethan is roasting a marshmallow on a previous camping trip.

About Chantelle

Chantelle is the oldest of 6 kids. Her youngest sibling, her sister, was adopted. She grew up in a family full of love and laughter.

Chantelle loves little kids, especially babies. She is often babysitting one of her friend's children to help them out. She is very social and enjoys being a stay at home Mom. Her greatest joy in life is her three children. She loves the smiles and laughter they bring into the home.

Chantelle loves doing her own nails, and also does other people's nails for fun. She has been doing it for years.

Chantelle is an outgoing person with a big heart. She is always ready to serve other people at the drop of a hat. She loves to get to know new people and befriend them.

Family dinner is very important to her. She loves the time of day when the family takes a break from the chaos of the world, to sit down, talk, spend time together, and eat with each other. Whether it's at home or a restaurant, it's important to her.

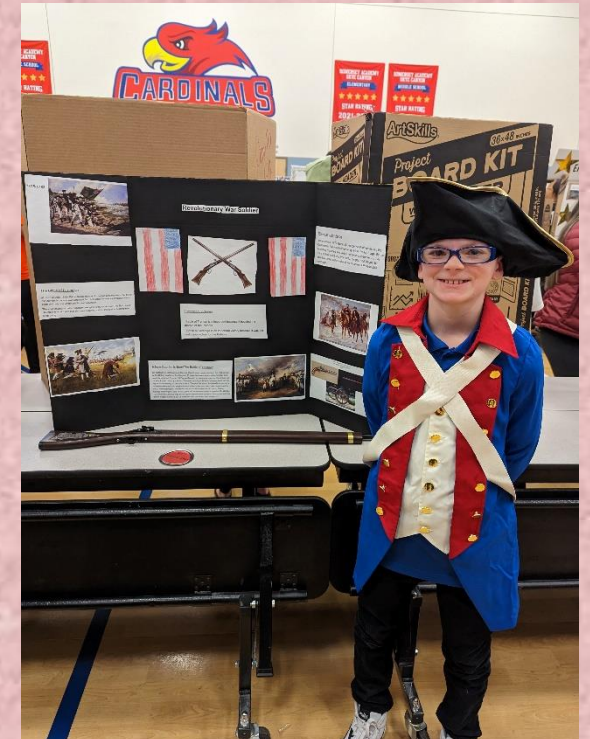

Most Sundays you can find Chantelle in the kitchen making a big meal. Zach and Chantelle like to invite people from church or their neighborhood to their home for Sunday dinner.

Ethan

This is Ethan. He is 10 years old. He is our goofball. He is always laughing and trying to get others to laugh with him.

Logan

This is Logan, our free spirit. He is 7 years old. He loves science, games, and all animals.

Austin

This is our sweet, wild Austin. He is 5 years old. He loves anything to do with water. He looks up to and enjoys playing with his older brothers.

Pets

This is our 3 year old Bella. She is a loveable and sweet girl, and she adores kids.

This is our 4 month old Togo. He is as sweet as he looks.

This is 3 year old Rocky. He is a Russian Desert Tortoise.

Letter from Chantelle to the Birth Mother:

I am looking forward to having a little girl join our family. I can't wait to hold her in my arms. I love my three boys and would do anything for them, but I have always dreamed of having a little girl. I can't wait for her to grow up with her older brothers in a loving home. I love children. I have always wanted to be a stay at home mom, and I'm truly blessed to be able to do that. The opportunity to stay home with my children, to love and raise them to the best of my ability, is the best job for me. I promise to do everything I can to love and protect your little girl. I promise to keep you up to date with her life, if that is what you would like. Placing her for adoption is very brave of you, and I'll do my best to give her the best life that I can give – that is giving her a loving family and a chance to grow up in it. We are members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Our lives are very much centered on our faith in our Savior Jesus Christ. We strive to be good Christians. We strive to live our lives in a way that would make Him proud. If you choose us, you are giving your daughter a chance to grow up in a good Christian home, where she will learn about the scriptures and especially about Heavenly Father and His son Jesus Christ. I believe every child, no matter race or gender, is a special Child of God who has a purpose on this earth. I desire to raise children to understand their worth and the love that their Heavenly Father and Savior Jesus Christ has for them. I have been waiting for the day to have a little girl in our home for a long time. I look forward to holding her in my arms and giving her lots of kisses. Thank you for considering us.

Love, Chantelle

Letter from Zach: A note to my future daughter

Dear daughter,

I don't know where you are, or when I will get to meet you, but I want you to know that we're working hard to find you. Your mom Chantelle, your birth parents, and I all want what's best for you. You'll have three older brothers that like to be rough and tumble. But, I know that they will love you, protect you, and probably tease you. While I do my best to be fair to all my children, give them what they need, and keep them happy; I'm not going to lie, you'll probably be more spoiled than them 😊. I've always wanted a "daddy's girl," and I hope that you'll love and adore me as much as I will you. I look forward to getting to know you and watching you grow and become a strong, sweet, independent woman. I hope we will get to meet soon.

Love, Dad

We hope you liked this little book about our family. There is so much that we can offer your little one. We hope to be able to meet her soon. Thank you for taking the time to look through this book and getting to know our family.
