

McKay & Megan

Our Adoption Story

Our Story

We first met thirteen years ago on a blind date set up by McKay's sister, but then went our separate ways. We reconnected seven years later when we both ironically were visiting New York City at the same time...Megan with a friend on vacation and McKay on a work trip. Since then, we have been inseparable and were married in Utah over five years ago.

We knew from early in our marriage that we both wanted to have kids and looked forward to being parents. After spending several years of infertility, doctors, and surgery, all unsuccessful, we started looking into alternative ways to grow our little family through adoption. We truly have felt guided by God as doors have opened through our journey. We adopted our daughter in 2021 and are excited to continue to grow our family.

Together we love seeking adventure in the outdoors, especially through mountain biking, swimming, running, and hiking. Our adventures have adjusted to include our daughter. We love going on long walks, hikes, and bike rides. We love spending time with our extended family playing games, eating food, and hanging out.

McKay

McKay was born the youngest of ten kids in Ontario, Canada. He moved with his family to Utah when he was seven years old where he discovered his passion for biking and running and competed in several races each year. After graduating high school, McKay spent two years in Guadalajara, Mexico serving a mission for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and then attended Utah Valley University where he competed professionally on the cycling team and took state in the IMCC Conference three of the four years he was there. He found a job at a technology company and quickly grew into the position of Marketing Officer where he currently works.

McKay continues to enjoy biking and running, as well as his favorite pastimes of watching YouTube and eating chips and salsa.

Megan

Megan was born and raised in Utah as the fifth of six children. She grew up playing soccer, basketball, and running track. She graduated from Brigham Young University with a degree in Medical Laboratory Science. Her love for the outdoors and family, kept her in Utah where she worked in a molecular laboratory doing genetic sequencing for cancer patients. Since bringing home our daughter she has transitioned to a stay at home mom. Loving every second of it.

Megan loves reading, cooking, mountain biking, playing the piano, and traveling! Her favorite pass times are spent with her family.

Anna

Our sweet baby Anna was born in 2021. She is a happy toddler. She loves to play imagination, going to the park, swimming, and cuddling with mom and dad. Anna loves exploring and learning new skills. She is now running everywhere! Anna loves walks outside, bike rides, hiking, and mac n' cheese!

We are excited to adopt a sibling for Anna and grow our family. She will be the best big sister.
